One Hundred Dollars Reward.

INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 3, 1888.
To the Public:

The Republican State central committee of Indiana will pay a reward of one hundred dollars for the apprehension and conviction of every one who, at the coming election, votes more than one ballot, or attempts to do so, or circulates false and spurious Republican tickets, or who alters, forges or mutilates tally-sheets, or who delays the election returns, or who changes ballot boxes; and this committee calls upon every good citizen to see that the laws are strictly enforced and a free ballot and fair count secured.

JAMES N. HUSTON,
Chairman.

Reward by the County Committee.

The Marion County Republican Committee will pay a reward of Two Hundred Dollars for the detection and arrest of any person voting, or attempting to vote, more than one ballot, at the election on Tuesday, Nov. 6, 1888.

W. N. HARDING,
Chairman.

THE THIRD-PARTY FRAUD.

Expressions of Representative Leaders of the Democratic Aid Society.

Rev. John A. Brooks, candidate for Vice-president on the third-party ticket, said to Samuel Wainwright, of Greensburg, then a citizen of Kentucky, and a member of Dr. Brooks' church, who asked advice about enlisting in the Union army:

"You Had Better Go to Hell at Once!"

Rev. Jasper S. Hughes, candidate of the third party for Governor of Indiana, said to Rev. Charles W. Rector, in reply to a question whether he would support the Republican party if it would put prohibition in its platform, said:

"I would see the Republicans rot in hell a thousand years before I'd vote the Republican ticket."

In a letter written by Helen M. Gougar, July 6, 1888, she says:

"WE CAN CARRY INDIANA AND NEW YORK FOR THE DEMOCRATS, and teach the hypocritical Republicans a lesson."

Mr. Isaac Farneman, a leading Prohibitionist of Carroll county, is reported to have said to William J. Brown:

"The arrangements are that all Prohibitionists who have heretofore been Democrats are to vote the straight Democratic ticket, while the Republican Prohibitionists are to vote the Prohibition ticket. When the right time comes Hughes and the whole Democratic contingent in the Prohibition ranks will swing back into the Democratic line."

We think the Democratic Aid Society is pretty thoroughly exposed.

DEMOCRATIC LEADERS.

List of the Prominent Managers of the Indiana Democratic Party

In the Michigan City penitentiary for election crimes:

SIMEON COY, chairman of the Marion county Democratic committee, and member of the City Council from the Fifth ward.

WILLIAM F. A. BERNHAMER, president of the Democratic-Coy canvassing band in 1886.

Indicted for complicity in the same crime for which Coy and Bernhamer were convicted:

JOHN E. SULLIVAN, Democratic clerk of Marion county.

HENRY N. SPAAN.

C. N. METCALF, Secretary of the State Board of Health.

JOHN A. COUN-ELMAN, Inspector of the Fourth ward, and several other prominent Democratic "two-balls."

We think Grover Cleveland is beaten.

We think the third-party fraud is "busted."

The Democratic annex seems to be disconnected.

The Democratic side-show is a good deal disfigured.

CHAIRMAN JEWETT's refusal to join in the effort to prevent the double-ballot fraud is a practical confession that he is conniving at the perpetration of such frauds.

NEW YORK, we believe, is certain for Harrison. Republicans of Indiana, make your own State lead the column.

The monster Republican demonstration in New York on Saturday, indicates that the New York business men—they're all right.

As a great politician and "fine worker" Mr. Thomas Taggart knows a good deal more than he did, though he may not be so pretty.

WILLIAM JEWETT's assertion that he would see the Republicans rot in hell a thousand years before he would vote the Republican ticket; after Mrs. Gougar's confession that she is working for the success of the Democratic party; after the innumerable proofs of collusion between the Democratic and third party managers, every man who votes the third party ticket acknowledges himself an enemy of temperance and a friend of the saloon.

REV. MR. HUGHES will find it a hard business to overthrow the sworn statement of a reputable, honorable, impartial minister, like Charles W. Rector. Mr. Hughes should take himself where he belongs—into the bosom of the free-whisky Democracy.

PUSH INDIANA to the head; it must not be the tail to the solid South.

THE ELECTION RETURNS.

The Journal will display all the election returns it receives on Tuesday night, by means of a stereopticon, upon a sheet displayed against the west side of Circle street.

The business and editorial rooms of the Journal will be closed to the public after 7 o'clock P. M., of Tuesday. Our friends will see the absolute necessity of this. Both in business and editorial departments the work will be phenomenally heavy, and cannot suffer interruption. Local news and advertisements will be received through the door to the publisher's private office on Circle street.

All the news we receive will be given to the public; and we believe it will be good news.

WHERE now are the Democratic pretenses of desiring a fair and honest election? "I have nothing more to say,"—Chairman Jewett.

The fact that certain special interests are malignantly fighting Bruce Carr would indicate that he has done his duty as Auditor of State.

ATTEMPTED BULLDOZING.

From Columbus, Bartholomew county, comes information of a second attempt to cause the arrest of Hon. Joseph I. Irwin on a trumped-up charge of bribery.

Dr. Hezekiah Carns, of Greenwood, Johnson county, was yesterday arrested and brought to this city on an affidavit made by some obscure individual, the charge being attempted bribery. Dr. Carns was held before a Democratic United States commissioner, yesterday afternoon, and compelled to give bail.

The character and reputations of Joseph I. Irwin and Hezekiah Carns are too well known and established to be tarnished by the acts of petty scoundrels and bulldozing officers.

We have information of warrants in the hands of Mr. Marshal Hawkins' deputies for the arrest of prominent Republicans in a large number of localities throughout the State, which are to be served to-day.

The arrest of Dr. Carns and the attempt on Mr. Irwin are parts of the plot to intimidate and terrorize the Republicans of Indiana. The Democratic tricksters do not know who they are trifling with. This is not Mississippi nor South Carolina, and the Republicans of Indiana are not timid, broken-down, terrorized colored people.

This is a game that two can play at, and the Republicans, when they conclude to take a hand, will play a "march" that will strike terror to the hearts of the Democratic bulldozers.

More than that: As the Journal has stated repeatedly, Marshal Hawkins is responsible on his bond for damages for false arrests by his deputies, general or special. Mr. Hawkins came to Indianapolis with the reputation of a bulldozing "ward-worker," so offensive that he had raised bitter enemies to himself and his methods among the better men of his own party in LaPorte county. His actions during this campaign indicate that he has transferred a large share of his "style" to this city. We desire to inform him that he will scarcely spread all over the State of Indiana. An ample fund has been raised and is at the disposal of the State central committee; and persons arrested by the deputy marshals are requested to send a full statement of their cases to the chairman, who will investigate them, and in every instance where the facts warrant suits will be instituted against Mr. Hawkins and pushed to the extreme. Whatever the result of the election, there are men in Indiana who propose to stay with all election criminals and bulldozers to the bitter end.

The Journal serves notice on the bulldozers that they are playing a dangerous game.

ELECTIONS come and elections go, but the United States Court goes on forever. The scoundrel, whether of high or low degree, who attempts to commit a crime against the ballot, will find Jordan a hard road to travel. No matter how the election goes, there is an organization of citizens in this city and State which proposes to prosecute election crimes to the bitter end, no matter who the criminals may be.

WHAT good will the election of Cleveland do for Indiana? The election of Benjamin Harrison would be a boom for the State that every citizen would feel, irrespective of politics.

ROBBING AMERICAN WORKINGMEN.

The statement of Mr. B. O. Haugh, published in the Journal of yesterday, relative to the large contract awarded to British iron-founders, should open the eyes of American manufacturers and workmen. Mr. Haugh is connected with the Haugh, Ketcham & Co. iron-works, of this city. His statement shows that English founders are now making 5,000 tons of cast-iron yokes for the Denver Cable-car Company. The contract amounts to $165,000, and the British founders got it by underbidding the iron-workers of St. Louis, Chicago, Cincinnati, Kansas City and several other places. The lowest American bid was $38.90 per ton, delivered at Denver, and the foreign bid was $33 per ton, delivered, and this in spite of a duty of 40 per cent. on the foreign castings. A sharp Kansas City broker took the contract in his own name, at $38 per ton, and then sub-let it to the British manufacturer at $33, making $5 per ton for himself. The British manufacturer was able to make this extremely low bid because he pays his workmen less than one-half the wages paid in this country. The awarding of this contract to England means the non-employment of over one hundred molders for six months, of over two hundred other employees in mining, manufacturing, iron and fuel for the same period of time. It means the loss of over 12,000 tons of ore to American consumption, and of over 15,000 tons of fuel. The labor item in this matter amounts, or would do if the contract had been let here, to over $100,000 in wages to American workmen, not including the labor of transportation. This is work, wages, and bread and butter taken from American workmen and given to British. This occurred under the present tariff, yet the Democratic party proposes to reduce it. The tariff should be increased.

THE Sullivan game are making a desperate effort to carry Marion county. They are like the corruptionists in New York city: they think more of the local offices than they do of anything else. They work for spoils and plunder. The election of the Democratic county ticket will be distinctively a triumph for the Sullivan-Coy gang. John E. Sullivan is really managing the local Democratic campaign, and the triumph of the Democracy in this county will simply mean a continuance of corruption. Republicans should smash the ring by electing their county ticket. It is a thoroughly good one, without any taint of Coymism about it.

"You had better go to hell at once,"—Rev. John A. Brooks. "I would see the Republicans rot in hell a thousand years before I'd vote the Republican ticket,"—Jasper S. Hughes. How familiar with hell these saintly third-party leaders are! They will be better acquainted with it after to-morrow.

THE DUTY YET TO BE DONE.

The noisy work of the campaign is completed, but that which remains to be done is equal in importance to all that has gone before. The battle is yet to be won or lost.

It is useless to have roused the people as they have never roused before, to have convinced them by argument and fired them by appeals, to have captured old and young voters by the hundreds and thousands, unless these results are made effective in the voting and the counting to-morrow. The results of all the work that has been done are yet to be realized.

The work to which Republicans must now address themselves is to see that every Republican ballot is deposited and counted, and to guard against fraud. If we can get in every vote that belongs to us, and keep out illegal and spurious ballots, the victory is won.

We assume that the Republicans are sufficiently organized in every voting precinct to know who the legal voters are, and to be prepared to invoke the whole power of the law to prevent illegal voting or repeating. This will require untiring vigilance and unflinching bravery.

The extraordinary number and variety of frauds which the Democrats are preparing to attempt will require the greatest watchfulness on the part of Republicans at every stage of the election proceedings. This vigilance must begin the moment the polls open and must not be relaxed even when they close.

Recent experience in this county has shown that, with Democratic methods and Democratic fine workers, an honest Republican victory may be stolen even after the ballots are deposited and counted. No point must be left unguarded or uncovered.

Remember that any legal voter in a precinct may challenge a person whom he suspects of fraudulent or illegal voting, and may insist on a strict enforcement of the law regarding the swearing in of votes.

The refusal of the Democratic State central committee to unite in measures to prevent double-ballot voting is strong proof of a purpose to work that particular fraud extensively. Republican watchers and challengers must be on the lookout for it.

Every Republican voter should obtain his ticket from a known Republican, or compare it carefully with the official ticket to be sure it is genuine. The Democrats are preparing to circulate several kinds of fraudulent tickets in the hope of running in one or more of their presidential electors, and thus stealing a part of the electoral vote of the State if they cannot win the whole.

Every Republican in the entire State votes for each one of the fifteen electors, and should make sure by a comparison of each name that he is voting for none but Republican electors, and that he is voting for all of them.

Remember that the supervisors appointed under the United States law have large discretionary powers in the interest of honest elections, and may safely be appealed to for the prevention of fraud.

And let everybody remember that the United States laws and the United States Court are behind this United States election, and that Simeon Coy and William F. A. Bernhamer are in the Michigan City penitentiary for election crimes.

The Democratic campaign has been worked by frauds and forgeries, lies and forgeries, libels and slanders. It seems to have been managed by thieves, liars, perjurers and forgers. The man or the committee that would forge a letter or circular in the name of a committee is not a whit more respectable than one who would forge an individual name to a promissory note or check. Indeed, they would do it if they did not fear being caught.

My Lord Sackville's sentiment, "Hurray for Cleveland and God save the Queen," fits a Democrat like the paper on the wall.

STAY AT HOME.

It is scarcely necessary to urge that no voter in Indiana leave his home on to-morrow, the day of election, without having cast his ballot, unless it be some Democrat disgusted with his party and its methods, but not sufficiently so to lead him to vote the Republican ticket. That is the only kind of a man who should leave his home to-morrow without having voted.

Traveling men need no appeal to stay at home; they will all vote.

With this suggestion to stay at home, we couple another, not to stay at home. Be at the polls all day, from the earliest hour to the last. Give your personal support to the work of the day. Deter bad men from crime by your presence, assist in looking up the doubtful, act as challenger, rallyer, runner, missionary, ticket-holder, ticket-paster—do anything else everything that will aid the Republican cause.

Stay at home—that is, stay in the precinct or township of your legal residence. Do not stay at home—that is, put in every hour of the day in hard, earnest, telling work. Then, when the returns come in, you will see the result of your individual effort, added to the effort of all other good men and true, in the grandest political triumph that has ever brought honor and profit to the State of Indiana.

Those third-party people who not only claim to be the only sincere friends of temperance, but who assume to monopolize most of the other Christian virtues, will have some difficulty in adjusting these claims to harmonize with candidate Hughes's consumption of Republicanism to a thousand years in hell.

A LIBEL SUIT, Mr. Hughes, is too thin. It is too late in the day to stop the heinous of honest and sincere men from a party whose sole purpose is to assist the corrupt, free-whisky Democracy.

HARRISON AND MORTON.

In the great campaign about closing the Republican party has been peculiarly fortunate in the candidates for President and Vice-president. We confidently expect the end to crown the work to-morrow in the election of Harrison and Morton, but even if it should be otherwise, Republicans would feel that the candidates had fully vindicated the wisdom of their nomination. On the day after General Harrison's nomination the Journal said:

"The Republican party of the United States never had a better leader in a presidential campaign than General Benjamin Harrison. He represents and typifies all that is best in the party; all that has made it great and powerful in the past or that justifies it in expecting a future. American civilization and American citizenship furnish no higher type of man, and the Republican party cannot furnish a better or truer Republican."

"It is no disparagement to other candidates to say that the selection of General Harrison for the head of the ticket is, beyond all doubt, the best that could have been made."

When this was printed, June 27 last, General Harrison was not as well or widely known as he is now, and hardly another newspaper in the United States could have spoken so confidently, of personal knowledge, concerning him as the Journal. Now his name is as familiar as household words from ocean to ocean, and there is not a Republican newspaper in the country but bears proud testimony to his splendid intellectual equipment, his high moral character, and the matchless brilliancy of the personal campaign he has made. The Journal's words have been fully verified. The Republican party, never did have a better presidential candidate than General Harrison, and we may add, it never responded more nobly or rallied more enthusiastically to the leadership of any other.

From the day of his nomination to the present hour General Harrison has grown in the estimation of the public, until now he is the most prominent figure in the Republican party, and the most admired man in America. This is not said in a spirit of flattery, but in just recognition of the high place General Harrison has taken in the estimation of his countrymen. His election to the presidency will be an honor to the Republican party, and a very special honor to Indiana.

Hon. Levi P. Morton has made a fine fit for the head of the ticket. Representing in a special sense the business element of the country, and the highest type of commercial integrity, his spotless character, like that of General Harrison, has been proof against all the shafts of calumny. Together they represent the best elements of Republicanism and of American citizenship, and the party has never battled under a cleaner or a worthier standard than that of Harrison and Morton.

REPUBLICAN PROHIBITIONISTS should not forget that the scheme of the joint managers of the Democratic and third parties is that Democratic prohibitionists are to vote the straight Democratic ticket, and only those of original Republican sympathies are to be encouraged to vote with the third party. It is a neat scheme, but was betrayed too soon to be of practical benefit to Mr. Cleveland's free-whisky party.

"I would see the Republicans rot in hell a thousand years before I'd vote the Republican ticket,"—Rev. J. S. Hughes to Rev. Charles W. Rector.

THE CLOSING PARADES.

The Republican demonstration Saturday night was eminently satisfactory in every respect, an honor to the party and a fitting finale to the most enthusiastic political campaign on record. In point of numbers it plainly exceeded the Democratic parade, and surpassed the expectations of Republican themselves. The Democracy had been working up their parade for months. By their own statement they had, at the beginning of the campaign, selected Saturday night for their closing and greatest effort, and for many weeks they had been using the utmost energy to make it an overwhelming success. For the Republican parade no special effort was made beyond announcing it a sufficient time in advance, and notifying Republicans through the press to turn out. And they did turn out. In point of numbers it was unquestionably the largest local parade that ever occurred here. There was not a club nor a single representation from outside the county, while the Democracy drew freely from neighboring towns to swell their ranks. Yet all who timed the two processions, or who attempted to count the people in line, agree that the Republican was decidedly the larger. Nor was it impressive in numbers only. It was equally remarkable in its composition, its personnel, its enthusiasm, spirit and tone. Hundreds of Republicans marched who never did before, and the moving thousands were all actuated by a common enthusiasm and determination. It was a great demonstration, and foreshadowed beyond a doubt a decided Republican majority in this city and county to-morrow.

OUR DISPATCHES SHOW THAT THE CLOSING DEMONSTRATION IN NEW YORK ON SATURDAY AFTERNOON WAS EQUALLY REMARKABLE IN ALL RESPECTS MENTIONED, AND CONSEQUENTLY THE LARGEST POLITICAL PARADE EVER SEEN IN THAT CITY. THIS IS THE MORE REMARKABLE AS IT OCCURRED IN THE DAYTIME, WHEN IT IS MUCH HARDER TO GET A LARGE TURNOUT THAN IT IS AT NIGHT. THESE TWO GREAT AND ENTHUSIASTIC DEMONSTRATIONS ARE, WE FEEL CONFIDENT, THE SURE TOKEN OF REPUBLICAN VICTORY IN INDIANA AND NEW YORK.

THE word of the Rev. Charles W. Rector is at least as good as that of Mr. Hughes, third-party candidate for Governor. Mr. Rector swears that Mr. Hughes said he would see Republicans rot in hell a thousand years before he would vote their ticket. Mr. Hughes uses the Journal for libel for publishing his remark; but a libel suit for buncombe is not a denial. Mr. Hughes dares not swear he did not make the speech.

LOOK out for the double-ballot fraud, Chairman Jewett practically confesses that this is one of the Democratic "good schemes" for carrying the election.

DEMOCRATIC AID SOCIETIES.

The Union Labor party managers and the third party managers are merely assistants to the Democratic party.

There have been sent all over the State to leading Knights of Labor, and others, a circular signed by the secretary of the Union Labor party, designed to influence them to vote directly for Cleveland, so as to more certainly aid in the defeat of General Harrison. Simultaneously with these circulars, and to the same address, have been mailed Cleveland and Thurman posters, printed so as to correspond with the so-called Union Labor ticket.

In addition to this, Union Labor tickets are in circulation upon which three or more of their electors' names do not appear, Democratic electors' names being substituted. If the State should be very close, it is hoped by this "deal" to elect three or more Democratic electors.

The third-party annex has done all it could to aid the Democracy. The scheme of the dishonest and corrupt leaders was exposed in Carroll county on Saturday, where one of the leaders, Mr. Isaac Farneman, is reported to have said to Mr. William J. Brown:

"The arrangements are that all Prohibitionists who have heretofore been Democrats are to vote the straight Democratic ticket, while the Republican Prohibitionists are to vote the Prohibition ticket. When the right time comes Hughes and the whole Democratic contingent in the Prohibition ranks will swing back into the Democratic line."

In Marion county it so happens that the names of one of the Democratic and third-party candidates for county commissioner are the same—"Benjamin F. Osborn," the third-party man spelling his with a final "e." There is a third-party ticket in the field with the "Osborn" spelled as it is on the Democratic ticket. These are to be counted for the Democrat, and by this means it is hoped to secure the election of this commissioner. This is a contemptible piece of dishonesty and fraud, of which some of the third-party leaders are cognizant, for some others, seeing the possibility, gave their word that the third-party tickets should all be printed "Osborne." The fraud shows the close alliance there is between the free-whisky Democracy and some of the corrupt leaders of the alleged temperance party.

But all these frauds and petty tricks will not succeed. Respectable, honorable, intelligent, loyal people are awake and in dead earnest. Free-whisky Democracy, with all its annexes and aid societies, will be buried under an overwhelming majority of honesty and indignation.

triumph to be proud of, to defeat a man like Benjamin Harrison in his own county and State by the use of methods that would disgrace any ordinary thief, counterfeiter or forger? What can be expected of the future unless such desperate and scoundrelly tactics are rebuked here and now?

The Journal does not believe in forgery, perjury, villainy will succeed. We think the election is practically over. General Harrison cannot be defeated. The people are not only too intelligent, but the scoundrelism of the Democratic managers has aroused a deep public indignation that will show itself at the polls to-morrow. The Journal believes that the majority of the people are intelligent and honest. The Democratic managers have pitched their canvass too low.

MR. HIRAM W. MILLER, inspector of the poor-farm precinct, Wayne township, has said, as is reported, in the presence of two citizens of high standing in this city, that there are 121 men at the poor farm, and that he will see that they are all voted without regard to challenges.

MR. HIRAM W. MILLER should remember that this is a United States election. Section 5511, Revised Statutes of the United States, provides that any officer knowingly receiving illegal votes, or refusing legal votes, shall be fined and imprisoned by the United States courts.

MR. HIRAM W. MILLER's reported threats will figure handsomely in a trial before the United States court.

MR. HIRAM W. MILLER would look as well behind the penitentiary bars as Simeon Coy or William F. A. Bernhamer.

MR. HIRAM W. MILLER will find that there are some men who propose to prosecute crimes against the election laws.

MR. HIRAM W. MILLER had better behave himself.

A "good scheme" of the fraudulent Democracy is to have indelible ink used in erasing names on the Republican ticket, which will not develop for several hours. This trick has been played in Indianapolis before, and is to be attempted again.

The only safe plan is for all Republican voters to obtain their tickets from men whom they know to be true-blue. Don't take a ticket from a Democrat, nor from a man whom you do not know to be an uncompromising Republican from head to foot.

THE STATE TICKET.

The overshadowing interest of the presidential election must not lead Republicans to forget the importance of the issues involved in the State contest, nor the excellence of their State ticket. Apart from the national election, the State issues would have justified a supreme effort on the part of Republicans to carry Indiana. They embrace reforms of the greatest importance, and involve in a very special sense the honor and welfare of the State. The candidates on the State ticket represent these principles and reforms as distinctively as those on the national ticket do the principles the Republicans are battling for in that field, and their election is no less important. From General Hovey, the gallant soldier, who leads the ticket, to the last man on it, they are worthy the hearty and enthusiastic support of every Republican. The present State officers, candidates for re-election, have fully earned that indorsement at the hands of the people whose interests they have served and guarded so well. The present Superintendent of Public Instruction is one of the very best the State has ever had. Our candidates for Supreme Judges are all eminently qualified for the position, and have had valuable experience on the circuit bench. Mr. John L. Griffiths, candidate for Reporter of the Supreme Court, is a gentleman of brilliant talents, and, though young in politics, contributes largely to the strength and popularity of the ticket. Republicans should make it part of their duty to see that this excellent ticket is elected by a majority commensurate with its merits.

REPUBLICANS are honest, law-abiding citizens, but it may not do to trust them to await legal processes when they catch a voter depositing a double ballot at the polls on Tuesday. It will be apt to go hard with such rogues, then and there.

THE "better class" of Democrats are to be requested to cast the double ballots, in order to ward off suspicion. The better class of Democrats will fit into the penitentiary quite as well as the common variety.

THE LEGISLATIVE TICKET.

We think the News has elected Connet and Tousey. If a reasonable and fair criticism had been waged against them the judgments of some Republicans might have been influenced; but when a blind, personal, malignant, baseless war is made against a candidate, the result is likely to be a revolt in the public mind in his favor.

MESSRS. Connet and Tousey, as all other Republican candidates for the Legislature, represent reforms that challenge the conscience and humanity of every citizen. They stand pledged for a reform in the benevolent institutions, and there is not a Democratic candidate who does.

The Republican candidates stand for an advance in the election laws and methods, that shall throw additional safeguards and restrictions around the ballot. There is not a Democratic candidate who does.

The Republican candidates for the Senate stand pledged to a repeal of the existing infamous, disfranchising gerrymander, and the passage of constitutional and honest apportionments. There is not a Democratic candidate in Marion county or the State who does.

The Republican candidates for the Senate, in Marion county and throughout the State as well, stand pledged to the election of a Republican United States Senator in 1891, to succeed Voorhees.

The man who favors reform in the State benevolences, better election laws, an honest and fair congressional and legislative apportionment, and a Republican United States Senator in 1891, will vote for the Republican candidates for the Legislature.

The man who claims to be in favor of any or all of these things, and advises "scratching" in favor of Democratic candidates, who are known to be opposed to them, in either a fool or a hypocrite.

The man who wants reform, and "scratches" his legislative ticket, simply shows that he has the itch of self-conceit, or petty malice more largely developed than either honesty or good sense.

WHAT sincerely honest temperance man can vote to place the Democratic party in power, in this State or in the Nation? The contest is between the Republican and Democratic parties; every man with common sense knows this. The record of the Democratic party is one unbroken subversion to the liquor power, particularly in Indiana and New York. In both those States the Republicans have taken advanced ground on the question of liquor legislation. The aggressive liquor interest is opposed to the Republican party and in favor of the Democratic party. The temperance man who votes with the third party becomes an ally of the free-whisky Democracy.

REPUBLICAN election judges should take nothing for granted from the time the polls are open in the morning until the ballots are counted out. They should see everything with their own eyes.

THE PROSECUTORSHIP.

A letter printed elsewhere gives some cold facts regarding the fight for prosecuting attorney. The Journal has several times expressed itself regarding the dishonorable and disgraceful war that has been made against Mr. Tinscher, the Republican candidate. The Journal's record in favor of the enforcement of the law against the criminal classes is known, and we say to our Republican friends that we believe Mr. Tinscher to be worthy their loyal support. He is not the friend, nor the creature, nor the tool of any class of law-breakers. He is honorable, reputable, intelligent, and able to make an efficient officer. Major Mitchell has not proved a phenomenal prosecutor. The escape of the tally-sheet forgers from the Criminal Court was a disgrace to the county. Did ever a man hear a word of censure from Major Mitchell? His deputy was given charge of the case, and it is currently understood that he held the back door of the grand jury room open through which the criminals escaped even an investigation. Major Mitchell has not been severe against the liquor-law violators, and he will receive the support of a vast majority of the liquor men. Everybody knows that, and yet a hypocritical, dishonest fight is being made on him at the expense of the reputation of Mr. Tinscher. The Republican who lends himself to that sort of a thing sells his soul to a piece of petty personalism.

"We can carry New York and Indiana for the Democracy." Well, scarcely; not by the votes of honest and sincere temperance men. The third-party fraud has been illuminated during the past few days.

THE CIRCUIT AND COMMISSIONERS' COURTS. Let it be again impressed upon the mind of Republicans that next to the presidency there are no offices to be filled next Tuesday of so great importance to the welfare of Marion county as the Circuit and Commissioners' courts. Let it also be remembered that these offices are now in the hands of the Democracy by the assistance of Republicans who have heretofore yielded to arguments of a personal nature, without thinking, or, perhaps, knowing, of the dangerous powers possessed by these courts.

The determination manifested by the Democrats to elect their candidates, their off-by-door canvass among Republicans, their efforts to trade anything on their State, congressional and county ticket for the circuit judge or commissioners, show how coveted these offices are by them, and should beset Republicans to head it off.

It is the jury, the grand jury, the recounters, inspectors, contests of election, all of which must come out of or go into these courts—in short, it is the political machinery of these courts that they want to steal away from Republicans, as they have done before, by personal appeals on behalf of their candidates. We should not be caught napping. The ticket should be voted straight, and it will then be elected straight.

AFTER election Rubber-band Jewett can return to private life, and reflect upon the damage to a man of "knowing so many things that
